Preface and Acknowledgements

From April 19th, 2017 to July 19th, 2017, I had the privilege and pleasure of joining a team of dedicated leaders and students from Simon Fraser University's International Relations department to Nicaragua. The goal of this internship was to formulate a youth education program that targeted vulnerable young people. Under the direction of Dr. Changla Vettan, Director of International Relations, myself and a team of 8 other students worked within the city of Leon and surrounding areas.

The three months we spent in Nicaragua were immensely eye-opening in terms of exposure to real crises that the vast majority of Nicaraguans face daily. Many experience yearly encounters with flooding, hurricanes, or drought. In addition, many youth are under-educated and at risk of being enticed into gangs or extreme political groups. It was our mission to set up day camps for the purpose of educating students on how to proactively support and engage with their communities in positive ways and become leaders of tomorrow. This experience was equally enriching for myself and the other students of the International Relations cohort as I hope it was for the students with whom we interacted.

I specifically would like to acknowledge and extend my sincere thanks for Dr. Vettan and the other supervisors who participated in this internship; I am protoundly changed and motivated to turther my studies and career in the hopes that I might one day dedicate my efforts in a long-term capacity to help individuals such as those we engaged with in Nicaragua.
