

I'm human

James C. Young is the PwC Professor of Accountancy Emeritus at Northern Illinois University. He holds degrees from Ferris State University (B.S.), Michigan State University (M.B.A., Ph.D.). His research focuses on taxpayer responses to income tax using archival data, and has received funding and awards for his work. Young's publications include the National Tax Journal, The Journal of the American Taxation Association, and Tax Notes. Mark B. Persellin is the Ray and Dorothy Berend Professor of Accounting at St. Mary's University. He earned degrees from the University of Arizona (B.S.), the University of Texas at Austin (M.P.A., Taxation), and the University of Houston (Ph.D.). Persellin teaches Personal Income Tax, Business Income Tax, Research in Federal Taxation, and has published in numerous academic and professional journals. Annette Nellen directs San Jose State University's graduate tax program and teaches courses in tax research, fundamentals, accounting methods, property transactions, employment tax, ethics, leadership, and tax policy. She holds degrees from CSU Northridge, Pepperdine (MBA), and Loyola Law School. Nellen has received awards for her teaching and is an active member of the AICPA and American Bar Association. Her publications include articles in AICPA Tax Insider, Tax Adviser, Tax Notes State, and The Journal of Accountancy. David M. Maloney, a renowned expert in taxation, is a professor emeritus at the University of Virginia's McIntire School of Commerce. He has taught federal taxation and received research grants from prominent organizations like Ernst & Young and KPMG. His work has been published in top-tier journals such as Journal of Taxation, The Tax Adviser, and Accounting Horizons. Andrew D. Cuccia, Steed Professor of Accounting at the University of Oklahoma, is a respected researcher and educator. He has taught courses on income tax fundamentals, corporate tax, tax policy, and tax research. His expertise lies in taxpayer and tax professional judgment and decision-making, with publications in esteemed journals like The Accounting Review and Tax Notes. James C. Young, PwC Professor of Accountancy Emeritus at Northern Illinois University, is a distinguished researcher and educator. His work focuses on taxpayer responses to the income tax, and he has received awards for his dissertation and subsequent research. He has published articles in leading journals such as National Tax Journal and The Journal of the American Taxation Association. Annette Nellen, J.D., CPA, CGMA, directs San Jose State University's graduate tax program and teaches courses on tax research, tax fundamentals, accounting methods, property transactions, employment tax, ethics, leadership, and tax policy. She is a respected educator with a strong background in taxation and has received awards for her teaching and research. Professor Nellen holds prestigious positions within tax sections of AICPA and American Bar Association. She is also chairing the Virtual Currency Task Force. In 2013, she received the AICPA Arthur J. Dixon Memorial Award for her work in taxation area. Professor Nellen is an accomplished author with a published Tax Portfolio on Amortization of Intangibles through Bloomberg BNA. Her numerous articles appear in various tax-related publications such as AICPA Tax Insider and The Journal of Accountancy. She serves as research fellow at Silicon Valley Institute for Regional Studies. Additionally, she has testified before House Ways and Means, Senate Finance Committees on Federal and state tax reform. Professor Nellen maintains 21st Century Taxation Website and blog (21stcenturytaxation.com) and other websites covering tax policy, virtual currency and state issues. Mark B. Persellin, Ph.D., CPA, CFP holds the Ray and Dorothy Berend Professor of Accounting position at St. Mary's University. He has a graduate background from University of Arizona (B.S.), University of Texas at Austin (M.P.A.) and University of Houston (Ph.D.). His teaching areas include Personal Income Tax, Business Income Tax and Research in Federal Taxation. Before joining St. Mary's University in 1991, Professor Persellin taught at Florida Atlantic University and Southwest Texas University. He has published his research in various academic and professional journals including The Journal of the American Taxation Association and The Accounting Educators' Journal. In 2003, he established the VITA site at St. Mary's University and continues to serve as a trainer. Sharon S. Lassar, Ph.D., CPA is the John J. Gilbert Professor and Director of the School of Accountancy at The University of Denver. She earned her Ph.D. from University of Southern California, Master of Taxation from Bentley University and Bachelor's in Accounting from West Virginia University. Prior to joining the University of Denver, Dr. Lassar was Director of the School of Accounting at Florida International University. She has served the profession through various roles including AICPA Council membership. Dr. Lassar is a past president of the Accounting Programs Leadership Group and Past Chair of the Colorado Society of CPAs. Andrew D. Cuccia, Ph.D., CPA is Steed Professor of Accounting at the University of Oklahoma. He graduated from Loyola University (B.B.A.) and University of Florida (Ph.D.). Before entering academia, Cuccia practiced as a certified public accountant. Andy Young A renowned scholar in taxation, Andy Young is a prominent figure in the field. Prior to joining the University of Oklahoma, he held faculty positions at Louisiana State University and the University of Illinois. His research focuses on taxpayer decision-making and has been published in top-tier journals such as The Accounting Review and Tax Notes. As a respected academic, Young has taught various courses, including income tax fundamentals and corporate tax. He has also served as a past president of the American Taxation Association and is a member of the American Accounting Association and the AICPA. Currently, he holds the PwC Professor of Accountancy Emeritus position at Northern Illinois University. Here's the rewritten text: Professor Ann Nellen chaired the AICPA Virtual Currency Task Force in 2013, earning the prestigious Arthur J. Dixon Memorial Award. She authored the Bloomberg BNA Tax Portfolio on Amortization of Intangibles and published numerous articles in leading tax journals. As a research fellow at the Silicon Valley Institute for Regional Studies, Professor Nellen has testified before Congress on federal and state tax reform. Her websites cover taxation, virtual currency, and state tax issues. David M. Maloney, Ph.D., CPA, is a renowned accounting expert as Carman G. Blough Professor of Accounting Emeritus at Virginia's McIntire School of Commerce. He taught federal taxation and received research grants from Ernst & Young and KPMG Foundations. Dr. Maloney has published extensively in top tax journals, including Journal of Taxation, The Tax Adviser, and Corporate Taxation. Andrew D. Cuccia, Ph.D., CPA, is the Steed Professor of Accounting at Oklahoma University. Before joining academia, he practiced as a CPA with a Big 4 firm. Dr. Cuccia's research focuses on taxpayer and tax professional judgment, published in The Accounting Review, Journal of Accounting Research, and Tax Notes. He has taught courses in income tax fundamentals, corporate tax, and tax policy. Andy is a past president of the American Taxation Association and member of the AICPA.

South western federal taxation 2024 comprehensive pdf. South western federal taxation 2024 corporations partnerships estates and trusts 47e. South western federal taxation 2024 comprehensive 47th edition pdf. South western federal taxation 2024 corporations partnerships estates and trusts. South western federal taxation 2024 individual income taxes. South western federal taxation 2024 test bank. South western federal taxation 2024 essentials of taxation individuals and business entities. South western federal taxation individual income taxes 2024 cengage publishing. South western federal taxation 2024 comprehensive loose leaf version. South western federal taxation 2024 corporations partnerships estates and trusts pdf. South western federal taxation 2024 47th edition. South western federal taxation 2024 comprehensive. South western federal taxation 2024 comprehensive 47th edition. South western federal taxation corporations partnerships estates and trusts 2024 edition.