

Continue

Reddit and its partners use cookies and similar technologies to provide you with a better experience. By accepting all cookies, you agree to our use of cookies to deliver and maintain our services and site, improve the quality of Reddit, personalize Reddit content and advertising, and measure the effectiveness of advertising. By rejecting non-essential cookies, Reddit may still use certain cookies to ensure the proper functionality of our platform. For more information, please see our Cookie Notice and our Privacy Policy.

Feeding on NPCs in The Elder Scrolls 5: Skyrim helps players postpone their vampirism infection. There are a few reasons why players might want to do that, but the important thing to know is how to actually feed as a vampire. Feeding can be complicated, though there are multiple ways to go about doing it. Players should be careful, though; feeding as a vampire in Skyrim is illegal in most of the territories around the map. Vampires are powerful creatures. Indeed, they are some of the most dangerous foes in Skyrim. For that reason, many players are attracted to them when it comes time to participate in the Dawnguard quest line. Becoming a vampire comes with plenty of new abilities, including perks and the power to feed. Vampirism can weaken players in certain situations, however, and feeding can be an important part of halting the process. How To Feed As A Vampire

There are three different ways to feed as a vampire in Skyrim. The easiest way is to pickpocket sleeping NPCs. The game will give players a prompt to feed, and the characters will be none the wiser. Another way to feed is to attack people as a Vampire Lord. Once enemies are close to death, a power attack will lead to a feeding. Finally, the Vampire's Seduction ability will enable a dialogue option that allows players to feed on non-playable characters. But, as noted, feeding is frowned upon. Unlike other quests and objectives in Skyrim, feeding as a vampire is an action that requires players to actively consider the consequences of their decision. Vampirism is curable in Skyrim, which is why some players might want to reverse their infection. The disease takes hold after three days in-game, and then progresses through four separate stages. Feeding postpones the progression of the infection, dropping players back to stage one of the illness. For those playing a stealth build in Skyrim, feeding shouldn't be much of a problem. Others, however, might find it difficult. And, though feeding helps, curing vampirism is a different thing entirely. Still, feeding can be very helpful depending on players' desired play styles. Skyrim's modded Anniversary Edition content introduces new challenges that can be solved more easily using the powers of a vampire. Regardless of whether players choose to become vampires, werewolves, mages, or assassins, though, there will continue to be an amazing player base for Skyrim. And what more could fans ask for than continued support for a beloved title?

The Elder Scrolls 5: Skyrim is available now on PC, PS4, PS5, Switch, Xbox One, and Xbox Series X/S. MORE: Skyrim: The Unquiet Dead Quest Guide

As a vampire in Skyrim, you can feed on NPCs to satisfy your hunger. There are several ways to do this: Pickpocket sleeping NPCs: The easiest way is to pickpocket sleeping NPCs. The game will give players a prompt to feed, and the characters will be none the wiser. Attack people as a Vampire Lord: Another way to feed is to attack people as a Vampire Lord. Once enemies are close to death, a power attack will lead to a feeding. Find a sleeping target: You can find a sleeping target and press the action button. You will be given a choice to feed or talk. Choose feed to satisfy your hunger. Meet certain conditions: In the Sacrosanct mod, you need to meet certain conditions before you can feed. The victim must be asleep, affected by the Vampiric Seduction daily power, and the Vampire Lord perk tree offers several perks for additional conditions. Why can't I feed as a vampire in Skyrim? Players who have Prevent Attacking Innocents enabled within the Gameplay menu under Settings will not be able to feed off of neutral humanoids. Vampires who are having trouble feeding should ensure the option is turned off. Can you feed as a Vampire Lord? To feed on Humans/Mer in Vampire Lord Form, you need to get them to low health, get your claws out, and press and hold the attack button. To feed on them in Human form, you need to be at least Stage Two Vampire and then use Vampires Seduction on them. What button do you feed in Skyrim? Find a sleeping target and press the action button. You will be given a choice to feed or talk. Choose feed to satisfy your hunger. How do you feed a vampire in Skyrim sacrosanct? To feed a vampire in Skyrim Sacrosanct mod, you need to meet certain conditions: The victim must be asleep. The victim must be affected by the Vampiric Seduction daily power. The Vampire Lord perk tree offers several perks for additional feeding conditions. The Elder Scrolls V Skyrim: How to feed as a vampire. Unfortunately, the information regarding how to feed as a vampire in The Elder Scrolls V Skyrim is not available in the provided article. Can you marry as a vampire in Skyrim? While it is possible to turn your spouse into a vampire in the Dawnguard expansion, once you yourself have become a vampire, it isn't possible to marry someone who is already a vampire, like Serana. What are the disadvantages of being a vampire in Skyrim? Being a vampire in Skyrim has the following disadvantages: Weakness to sunlight: Vampires cannot regenerate health, stamina, and magicka in sunlight. NPC hostility: NPCs will become hostile towards vampires, especially if they are in the fourth stage of vampirism. Does feeding on people in Skyrim turn them into vampires? No, feeding on people in Skyrim does not turn them into vampires. Drinking too much blood from a victim and killing them can result in them becoming a vampire, but it is not possible to kill anyone solely from feeding on them. What are the benefits of being a vampire in Skyrim? The benefits of being a vampire in Skyrim include: Strong vampire abilities and active effects, such as increased stealth when sneaking. Access to Vampire Lord form with unique powers and abilities. Can Falon cure vampirism multiple times? Yes, Falon can cure vampirism multiple times. It will cost one filled Black Soul Gem each time and the player will have to find Falon and follow him to the Summoning Stones each time. There are no negative repercussions for using the Skyrim vampire cure more than once. Can you cure being a vampire in Skyrim? Yes, you can cure being a vampire in Skyrim. To cure vampirism, you need to fill a Black Soul Gem by casting Soul Trap on a humanoid target. Then, you can meet Falon at the stone circle to cure the infection. Falon will agree to cure vampirism multiple times, so the cure can be completed multiple times if infected on more than one occasion. Can you become a vampire after refusing Skyrim? No, once you have refused becoming a vampire in Skyrim, you cannot become a vampire later in the game. How many times do I need to feed as a vampire in Skyrim? As a vampire in Skyrim, you only need to feed once per day to remain at Stage 1 of vampirism. Feeding, regardless of your current stage, will always revert you to Stage 1. Why did I just turn into a vampire in Skyrim? If you have turned into a vampire in Skyrim, you must have contracted vampirism while battling a vampire. If you don't visit a shrine or drink a Cure Disease potion within a few days after contracting it, you will become a full-fledged vampire. To cure yourself, you can head to Morthal and speak to Falon. Is it better to be a vampire or Dawnguard? The decision to be a vampire or join the Dawnguard in Skyrim depends on your personal preference and playing style. If you want to align with the vampires, you will have access to unique vampire powers and abilities. On the other hand, siding with the Dawnguard offers a more trustworthy faction and access to better weapons. What is the hardest vampire in Skyrim? Harkon is the hardest vampire in Skyrim. Is it better to be a werewolf or vampire in Skyrim? Werewolf form is considered better than Vampire Lord form in Skyrim. While both forms have their advantages, many players prefer the Werewolf form for its combat abilities and immunity to sunlight. Vampire Lord form may offer unique powers and abilities, but it is not as versatile as the Werewolf form. Can I turn Lydia into a vampire? No, you cannot turn Lydia into a vampire in Skyrim, you will need to use Serana and Harkon in the Dawnguard DLC's main quest and become a Volkhar vampire. This will allow you the opportunity to turn Lydia into a vampire and have her unique markings. How do you become a royal vampire in Skyrim? To become a royal vampire in Skyrim, you need to progress through the Dawnguard DLC's main questline. After returning Serana to her father in the Bloodline quest, Lord Harkon will offer you the opportunity to become a Vampire Lord. By accepting his offer, you will become a royal vampire. Who is the best spouse to turn into a vampire in Skyrim? The best spouse to turn into a vampire in Skyrim is Yselda. She is a favorite choice because of the unusual markings she gets from being made into a vampire. Additionally, she is relatively easy to convince to marry in the game. You can find her in Whiterun in the market. What race is best for vampire in Skyrim? The Dark Elves (Dunmer) are considered one of the best races to play as a vampire in Skyrim. With their stealth and magical abilities, they make perfect hunters of the night. Can you join the Dawnguard as a vampire? While you can join the Dawnguard faction in Skyrim, if you have already become a vampire, they will tell you to get cured and won't give you any quests until you do. So, you cannot join the Dawnguard faction as a vampire. What is the best house for a vampire in Skyrim? The best house for a vampire in Skyrim is Honeyside in Riften. It has a back door to the overworld, which is useful for sneaking in if you're blood-starved and don't have Dawnguard. It also prevents vampire attacks since you don't have to go through the city to reach home. You will slowly lose your humanity and start becoming a vampire after getting infected with vampiric disease. Once you've fully become the creature of the night, the world becomes much harsher. As sunlight and fire are the bane of vampires existence, you will take extra damage against these elements. Furthermore, vampires are hated and feared by all the citizens of Skyrim. So, you can only travel freely during the night. The only way to retain your humanity is by feeding. Feeding not only decreases your vampire level but also makes the debuff less punishing. There are multiple ways to feed as a Vampire. You can feed on unsuspecting NPC while they're sleeping or use the Vampire Seduction spell to feed on them while they're awake. A lesser-known way to feed is by using your power melee attack on the NPC in your Vampire Lord form. Let's discuss. Feeding on resting NPCs is the best way to feed as a vampire. First, you'll need to find a sleeping NPC. Usually, all the citizens of Skyrim sleep in their households during the nighttime. So, use this opportunity to break into one of their houses. Once you're in, press the crouch button and move closer to them while they're sleeping. Then, hit the interact button. Here, you'll be given a prompt to either feed on them or pickpocket them. Choose the Feed option. There are a few places where you'll always find sleeping NPCs, like the Barracks, stables, or the guild hangout, but the easiest place to feed on NPCs is the Temple of Kynareth in Whiterun. Here, you'll always find the wounded soldier or the sickly farmer sleeping on the healing altars, making them ideal for feeding. Note: To make sneaking and breaking into homes easier, you can get some perks from the Sneaking and Pickpocketing skills trees. Vampires have multiple powerful abilities that really compliment the playstyle. One such power is the Vampires Seduction. You'll get this ability as soon as you enter level 2 in the vampirism progression. Using Vampires Seduction on prey ensures that they do not flee for up to 30 seconds. After casting this ability, simply interact with them to get the option to feed. You'll need to be careful though. If you're caught by other NPCs while you're feeding, they will be hostile toward you and will also add a bounty on your head. The only downside of this ability is the cooldown timer. Like your other powers, Vampires Seduction can only be used once a day. You'll notice that once you've used Vampire Seduction, it will be missing from the Powers lists. To regain the power, you need to wait 24 in-game hours. Note: Few NPC types cannot be seduced with your powers, like the city guards, Daedra, automatons, Dragrugs, etc. In addition to the methods mentioned above, players can feed on NPCs while in the Vampire Lord form as well. It might not be as apparent how to feed as the Vampire Lord because they don't have feeding abilities or options. So instead, you'll have to use your power attack on enemies once their health reaches below 20%. Power attacking successfully will play an animation where the Vampire Lord grabs hold of the enemy and bites their neck. This can be difficult to pull off at first. But with a bit of practice, you can consistently perform feeding during combat. Every day you go without feeding, the debuffs you gain as a vampire will become harsher. For example, the weakness to fire debuff starts at 20% and reaches up to 50%. If you do not have the Dawnguard expansion pack, it increases to 100%. Similarly, the Weakness to Sunlight debuff reduces your Health, Stamina, and Magicka points and their regeneration by 15 points. However, it will grow harsher every day and can reach up to 60 points. This can make it very difficult to play during the daytime. To counter the debuffs from vampirism, you have to feed on NPCs. Continue to feed on multiple people to decrease the debuffs to their initial values. Skyrim is fun and challenging when played as a Vampire Lord. However, the key is to understand how to feed and let your natural negative effects be suppressed. To be a vampire, you need to get hit by another vampire who then passes the Sanguinare Vampiris disease to you. Another way of becoming a vampire is to acquire the Vampire Salts and ingest it as food. Vampirism in Skyrim Vampirism is acquired when the disease Sanguinare Vampiris infects the body for more than three in-game days. It is challenging to cure full vampirism. Vampirism comes in four stages. The disease will progress if the vampire goes on without feeding on a sleeping NPC every 24 hours. Once the Skyrim how to feed as a vampire is understood and the vampire feeds, he returns to stage one again. If the vampire goes for a long time without any feed, his infections severity will increase. Vampires are harmed when exposed to the sun. They get stigmatized by the mortals, and they have this undying thirst to drink blood. It is essential to know what to do if in Skyrim how to feed as a vampire is not working. Feeding mod when you are a vampire Skyrim how to feed as a vampire is what you should know to play the game well. To feed on the humans who are sleeping first go to the towns and sneak into their houses. You could creep up from behind when they are asleep. When you crouch, you get the option of Pickpocket. Choose this option, and then you get a further option to either Feed or Pickpocket. Select on Feed, and you will be able to feed without disturbing the target. The PC version lets you choose from multiple mods that help improve the experience and make it easy to feed on a target. Here are some of the mods: Better Vampires offer customization. This mod lets you feed on the dead bodies and avoid sickness when you are in daylight or under the sun. Vampiric Thirst has an addition of feeding and hunting games as per your play style and adding some realism in your lifestyle. It also lets you walk under the sun. Types of Skyrim how to feed as a vampire When the vampire drinks blood, it reverses its stage. Sleeping The vampire should approach the humanoid that is sleeping and press on the interaction button. This will cause the black message box to pop up with the option to feed or to talk. To execute, you must choose the feed option. It is possible to feed on the same person many times in the night. Conscious This Skyrim how to feed as a vampire method works in the same way as the sleeping method, but the vampire seduction spell has to be cast for this. This spell is available only once in the day at stage 2. It also affects the character to some extent, so the target must be chosen with care. What if Skyrim how to feed as a vampire is not working? If you are not able to feed, then here is your quick fix. This condition, however, is rare. At times, you may be hovering on a victim, and the only option that you get is to pickpocket. It can be frustrating. There may be a mod that is negatively interacting with the vampire. It is maybe due to the race challenging mod being installed. There could also be a bug. The best is to reload before you become a vampire and then become a vampire, this one helps at times. There could be issues when you use a console command. You should not use the console commands to make yourself into a vampire or to alter your character. It can cause a few glitches and may make it unavailable to feed. Conclusion Feeding is essential because it lets you regress to the early vampire stages. You will be able to feed only on the humans that are asleep. The Skyrim vampires get powerful when they do not feed. Also, there is no limit on the number of times that you can feed on someone. This neither kills nor damages the health of the NPC. You also do not need to feed many times, as once you feed, you go back to stage 1. Heres our complete on how to feed as a Vampire Skyrim guide! Learn how to quench your thirst for blood in this alternative way to play the game. Becoming a vampire is an extremely cool feature in Skyrim and it has its own benefits. From, gaining new magic spells to having better attributes, you can roam the world as a vampire and wreak havoc. However, if you do not want to enter the highest stage of vampirism, you need to learn how to feed as a vampire in Skyrim. To feed as a vampire in Skyrim, you must first become a vampire and then look for NPCs who are sleeping. Pickpocket them and you'll get an option to feed on them without any issues. Thats not all, you can use other methods to feed on NPCs if you become a vampire. This guide will not only show you how to feed as a vampire in Skyrim but also show you the benefits, drawbacks, and how you can become a vampire. First things first, you need to know how to become a vampire before you can start feeding on NPCs. Becoming a vampire is quite simple as you need to either get damaged by a vampire enemy or get attacked by the Vampiric Drain spell. If you've successfully received damage from it, you'll get the Sanguinare Vampiris status and you'll start becoming a vampire. If you want to become a full vampire and receive all the benefits and side effects, you shouldnt feed on any NPC for at least three in-game days. That will allow you to reach the highest stage of vampirism and you'll get the following buffs: Vampiric Drain Vampires Servant Vampires Sight Vampires Seduction Embrace of Shadows Plus, you'll get the Champion of the Night buff as well which will allow you to enhance the effectiveness of the Illusion spells. Plus, the Nightwalkers Footsteps allow you to easily sneak around without being heard. However, the downside is that you'll get the Weakness to Sunlight debuff and you will lose attributes when exposed to direct sunlight. Some of the lost attributes are slow health, stamina, and magicka regeneration. You can go on to become a vampire lord but thats a different story. As mentioned at the start, there are multiple ways in which you can feed on NPCs as a vampire. Depending on what the time is in the game or what situation you are in, you might want to try out the different methods to see which one works for you the best. The easiest and most safe method is to wait for the night when the NPCs go to sleep. Once they are sleeping, you'll want to enter their house while sneaking and go to their body. You'll get an option to pickpocket them, so, use it and you'll get another option to feed. Now, you'll have successfully fed on the NPC without them ever finding out. Another method is to get NPCs to low health and then use a powerful attack to feed on them. However, this only works if you are a vampire lord, so you cannot use it if you are a normal vampire in the early stages. Finally, you can use your charisma skills and use the Vampires Seduction ability to lure NPCs and feed on them. Depending on how successful your ability is, you will either have an easy time or you'll have to flee the area. Keep in mind that feeding as a vampire is looked down upon in the world of Skyrim and guards will attack you as soon as you do it. Since this is an illegal act, you need to make sure that you are not seen or heard by anyone. One thing you might be wondering is why you need to feed on NPCs when you contract the vampire disease. Worry not because we've answered this question for you and it'll help you decide if you want to feed on NPCs or not. First things first, there are four stages of becoming a vampire. Each stage has its own advantages and disadvantages with stage four being the strongest. If you want to progress to the next stage, you cannot feed on any NPC for at least a full in-game day. Increased Resist Frost by 25% Attributes are reduced by 15 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 25% Gain abilities Vampires Sight, Vampiric Drain, Vampires Servant Increased Resist Frost by 50% Attributes are reduced by 30 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 50% Gain ability Vampires Seduction Increased Resist Frost by 75% Attributes are reduced by 45 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 75% Stronger versions of existing abilities Drawback: Most NPCs will not interact with you Increased Resist Frost by 100% Attributes are reduced by 60 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 100% Gain abilities Embrace of Shadows and upgraded Vampiric Drain and Vampires Servant Drawback: You will be attacked by the citizens for being a vampire. However, keep in mind that if you have the Dawnguard DLC, NPCs will not become hostile towards you when you are in stage 4. Instead, they will be hostile towards you if you become the vampire lord. Another thing to keep in mind is that becoming a vampire is great for stealth-based characters since it gives them tons of useful skills. However, you might feel a lot of inconveniences when using other characters. If you are tired of becoming a vampire and want to get rid of this disease, there is a way in which you can cure your character. For starters, if you just got this sickness, you can use the Cure Disease to quickly get rid of it before it progresses to the next stage. Alternatively, you can lord, so you cannot use it if you are a normal vampire in the early stages. Finally, you can use your charisma skills and use the Vampires Seduction ability to lure NPCs and feed on them. Depending on how successful your ability is, you will either have an easy time or you'll have to flee the area. Keep in mind that feeding as a vampire is looked down upon in the world of Skyrim and guards will attack you as soon as you do it. Since this is an illegal act, you need to make sure that you are not seen or heard by anyone. One thing you might be wondering is why you need to feed on NPCs when you contract the vampire disease. Worry not because we've answered this question for you and it'll help you decide if you want to feed on NPCs or not. First things first, there are four stages of becoming a vampire. Each stage has its own advantages and disadvantages with stage four being the strongest. If you want to progress to the next stage, you cannot feed on any NPC for at least a full in-game day. Increased Resist Frost by 25% Attributes are reduced by 15 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 25% Gain abilities Vampires Sight, Vampiric Drain, Vampires Servant Increased Resist Frost by 50% Attributes are reduced by 30 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 50% Gain ability Vampires Seduction Increased Resist Frost by 75% Attributes are reduced by 45 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 75% Stronger versions of existing abilities Drawback: Most NPCs will not interact with you Increased Resist Frost by 100% Attributes are reduced by 60 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 100% Gain abilities Embrace of Shadows and upgraded Vampiric Drain and Vampires Servant Drawback: You will be attacked by the citizens for being a vampire. However, keep in mind that if you have the Dawnguard DLC, NPCs will not become hostile towards you when you are in stage 4. Instead, they will be hostile towards you if you become the vampire lord. Another thing to keep in mind is that becoming a vampire is great for stealth-based characters since it gives them tons of useful skills. However, you might feel a lot of inconveniences when using other characters. If you are tired of becoming a vampire and want to get rid of this disease, there is a way in which you can cure your character. For starters, if you just got this sickness, you can use the Cure Disease to quickly get rid of it before it progresses to the next stage. Alternatively, you can lord, so you cannot use it if you are a normal vampire in the early stages. Finally, you can use your charisma skills and use the Vampires Seduction ability to lure NPCs and feed on them. Depending on how successful your ability is, you will either have an easy time or you'll have to flee the area. Keep in mind that feeding as a vampire is looked down upon in the world of Skyrim and guards will attack you as soon as you do it. Since this is an illegal act, you need to make sure that you are not seen or heard by anyone. One thing you might be wondering is why you need to feed on NPCs when you contract the vampire disease. Worry not because we've answered this question for you and it'll help you decide if you want to feed on NPCs or not. First things first, there are four stages of becoming a vampire. Each stage has its own advantages and disadvantages with stage four being the strongest. If you want to progress to the next stage, you cannot feed on any NPC for at least a full in-game day. Increased Resist Frost by 25% Attributes are reduced by 15 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 25% Gain abilities Vampires Sight, Vampiric Drain, Vampires Servant Increased Resist Frost by 50% Attributes are reduced by 30 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 50% Gain ability Vampires Seduction Increased Resist Frost by 75% Attributes are reduced by 45 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 75% Stronger versions of existing abilities Drawback: Most NPCs will not interact with you Increased Resist Frost by 100% Attributes are reduced by 60 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 100% Gain abilities Embrace of Shadows and upgraded Vampiric Drain and Vampires Servant Drawback: You will be attacked by the citizens for being a vampire. However, keep in mind that if you have the Dawnguard DLC, NPCs will not become hostile towards you when you are in stage 4. Instead, they will be hostile towards you if you become the vampire lord. Another thing to keep in mind is that becoming a vampire is great for stealth-based characters since it gives them tons of useful skills. However, you might feel a lot of inconveniences when using other characters. If you are tired of becoming a vampire and want to get rid of this disease, there is a way in which you can cure your character. For starters, if you just got this sickness, you can use the Cure Disease to quickly get rid of it before it progresses to the next stage. Alternatively, you can lord, so you cannot use it if you are a normal vampire in the early stages. Finally, you can use your charisma skills and use the Vampires Seduction ability to lure NPCs and feed on them. Depending on how successful your ability is, you will either have an easy time or you'll have to flee the area. Keep in mind that feeding as a vampire is looked down upon in the world of Skyrim and guards will attack you as soon as you do it. Since this is an illegal act, you need to make sure that you are not seen or heard by anyone. One thing you might be wondering is why you need to feed on NPCs when you contract the vampire disease. Worry not because we've answered this question for you and it'll help you decide if you want to feed on NPCs or not. First things first, there are four stages of becoming a vampire. Each stage has its own advantages and disadvantages with stage four being the strongest. If you want to progress to the next stage, you cannot feed on any NPC for at least a full in-game day. Increased Resist Frost by 25% Attributes are reduced by 15 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 25% Gain abilities Vampires Sight, Vampiric Drain, Vampires Servant Increased Resist Frost by 50% Attributes are reduced by 30 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 50% Gain ability Vampires Seduction Increased Resist Frost by 75% Attributes are reduced by 45 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 75% Stronger versions of existing abilities Drawback: Most NPCs will not interact with you Increased Resist Frost by 100% Attributes are reduced by 60 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 100% Gain abilities Embrace of Shadows and upgraded Vampiric Drain and Vampires Servant Drawback: You will be attacked by the citizens for being a vampire. However, keep in mind that if you have the Dawnguard DLC, NPCs will not become hostile towards you when you are in stage 4. Instead, they will be hostile towards you if you become the vampire lord. Another thing to keep in mind is that becoming a vampire is great for stealth-based characters since it gives them tons of useful skills. However, you might feel a lot of inconveniences when using other characters. If you are tired of becoming a vampire and want to get rid of this disease, there is a way in which you can cure your character. For starters, if you just got this sickness, you can use the Cure Disease to quickly get rid of it before it progresses to the next stage. Alternatively, you can lord, so you cannot use it if you are a normal vampire in the early stages. Finally, you can use your charisma skills and use the Vampires Seduction ability to lure NPCs and feed on them. Depending on how successful your ability is, you will either have an easy time or you'll have to flee the area. Keep in mind that feeding as a vampire is looked down upon in the world of Skyrim and guards will attack you as soon as you do it. Since this is an illegal act, you need to make sure that you are not seen or heard by anyone. One thing you might be wondering is why you need to feed on NPCs when you contract the vampire disease. Worry not because we've answered this question for you and it'll help you decide if you want to feed on NPCs or not. First things first, there are four stages of becoming a vampire. Each stage has its own advantages and disadvantages with stage four being the strongest. If you want to progress to the next stage, you cannot feed on any NPC for at least a full in-game day. Increased Resist Frost by 25% Attributes are reduced by 15 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 25% Gain abilities Vampires Sight, Vampiric Drain, Vampires Servant Increased Resist Frost by 50% Attributes are reduced by 30 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 50% Gain ability Vampires Seduction Increased Resist Frost by 75% Attributes are reduced by 45 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 75% Stronger versions of existing abilities Drawback: Most NPCs will not interact with you Increased Resist Frost by 100% Attributes are reduced by 60 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 100% Gain abilities Embrace of Shadows and upgraded Vampiric Drain and Vampires Servant Drawback: You will be attacked by the citizens for being a vampire. However, keep in mind that if you have the Dawnguard DLC, NPCs will not become hostile towards you when you are in stage 4. Instead, they will be hostile towards you if you become the vampire lord. Another thing to keep in mind is that becoming a vampire is great for stealth-based characters since it gives them tons of useful skills. However, you might feel a lot of inconveniences when using other characters. If you are tired of becoming a vampire and want to get rid of this disease, there is a way in which you can cure your character. For starters, if you just got this sickness, you can use the Cure Disease to quickly get rid of it before it progresses to the next stage. Alternatively, you can lord, so you cannot use it if you are a normal vampire in the early stages. Finally, you can use your charisma skills and use the Vampires Seduction ability to lure NPCs and feed on them. Depending on how successful your ability is, you will either have an easy time or you'll have to flee the area. Keep in mind that feeding as a vampire is looked down upon in the world of Skyrim and guards will attack you as soon as you do it. Since this is an illegal act, you need to make sure that you are not seen or heard by anyone. One thing you might be wondering is why you need to feed on NPCs when you contract the vampire disease. Worry not because we've answered this question for you and it'll help you decide if you want to feed on NPCs or not. First things first, there are four stages of becoming a vampire. Each stage has its own advantages and disadvantages with stage four being the strongest. If you want to progress to the next stage, you cannot feed on any NPC for at least a full in-game day. Increased Resist Frost by 25% Attributes are reduced by 15 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 25% Gain abilities Vampires Sight, Vampiric Drain, Vampires Servant Increased Resist Frost by 50% Attributes are reduced by 30 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 50% Gain ability Vampires Seduction Increased Resist Frost by 75% Attributes are reduced by 45 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 75% Stronger versions of existing abilities Drawback: Most NPCs will not interact with you Increased Resist Frost by 100% Attributes are reduced by 60 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 100% Gain abilities Embrace of Shadows and upgraded Vampiric Drain and Vampires Servant Drawback: You will be attacked by the citizens for being a vampire. However, keep in mind that if you have the Dawnguard DLC, NPCs will not become hostile towards you when you are in stage 4. Instead, they will be hostile towards you if you become the vampire lord. Another thing to keep in mind is that becoming a vampire is great for stealth-based characters since it gives them tons of useful skills. However, you might feel a lot of inconveniences when using other characters. If you are tired of becoming a vampire and want to get rid of this disease, there is a way in which you can cure your character. For starters, if you just got this sickness, you can use the Cure Disease to quickly get rid of it before it progresses to the next stage. Alternatively, you can lord, so you cannot use it if you are a normal vampire in the early stages. Finally, you can use your charisma skills and use the Vampires Seduction ability to lure NPCs and feed on them. Depending on how successful your ability is, you will either have an easy time or you'll have to flee the area. Keep in mind that feeding as a vampire is looked down upon in the world of Skyrim and guards will attack you as soon as you do it. Since this is an illegal act, you need to make sure that you are not seen or heard by anyone. One thing you might be wondering is why you need to feed on NPCs when you contract the vampire disease. Worry not because we've answered this question for you and it'll help you decide if you want to feed on NPCs or not. First things first, there are four stages of becoming a vampire. Each stage has its own advantages and disadvantages with stage four being the strongest. If you want to progress to the next stage, you cannot feed on any NPC for at least a full in-game day. Increased Resist Frost by 25% Attributes are reduced by 15 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 25% Gain abilities Vampires Sight, Vampiric Drain, Vampires Servant Increased Resist Frost by 50% Attributes are reduced by 30 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 50% Gain ability Vampires Seduction Increased Resist Frost by 75% Attributes are reduced by 45 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 75% Stronger versions of existing abilities Drawback: Most NPCs will not interact with you Increased Resist Frost by 100% Attributes are reduced by 60 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 100% Gain abilities Embrace of Shadows and upgraded Vampiric Drain and Vampires Servant Drawback: You will be attacked by the citizens for being a vampire. However, keep in mind that if you have the Dawnguard DLC, NPCs will not become hostile towards you when you are in stage 4. Instead, they will be hostile towards you if you become the vampire lord. Another thing to keep in mind is that becoming a vampire is great for stealth-based characters since it gives them tons of useful skills. However, you might feel a lot of inconveniences when using other characters. If you are tired of becoming a vampire and want to get rid of this disease, there is a way in which you can cure your character. For starters, if you just got this sickness, you can use the Cure Disease to quickly get rid of it before it progresses to the next stage. Alternatively, you can lord, so you cannot use it if you are a normal vampire in the early stages. Finally, you can use your charisma skills and use the Vampires Seduction ability to lure NPCs and feed on them. Depending on how successful your ability is, you will either have an easy time or you'll have to flee the area. Keep in mind that feeding as a vampire is looked down upon in the world of Skyrim and guards will attack you as soon as you do it. Since this is an illegal act, you need to make sure that you are not seen or heard by anyone. One thing you might be wondering is why you need to feed on NPCs when you contract the vampire disease. Worry not because we've answered this question for you and it'll help you decide if you want to feed on NPCs or not. First things first, there are four stages of becoming a vampire. Each stage has its own advantages and disadvantages with stage four being the strongest. If you want to progress to the next stage, you cannot feed on any NPC for at least a full in-game day. Increased Resist Frost by 25% Attributes are reduced by 15 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 25% Gain abilities Vampires Sight, Vampiric Drain, Vampires Servant Increased Resist Frost by 50% Attributes are reduced by 30 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 50% Gain ability Vampires Seduction Increased Resist Frost by 75% Attributes are reduced by 45 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 75% Stronger versions of existing abilities Drawback: Most NPCs will not interact with you Increased Resist Frost by 100% Attributes are reduced by 60 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 100% Gain abilities Embrace of Shadows and upgraded Vampiric Drain and Vampires Servant Drawback: You will be attacked by the citizens for being a vampire. However, keep in mind that if you have the Dawnguard DLC, NPCs will not become hostile towards you when you are in stage 4. Instead, they will be hostile towards you if you become the vampire lord. Another thing to keep in mind is that becoming a vampire is great for stealth-based characters since it gives them tons of useful skills. However, you might feel a lot of inconveniences when using other characters. If you are tired of becoming a vampire and want to get rid of this disease, there is a way in which you can cure your character. For starters, if you just got this sickness, you can use the Cure Disease to quickly get rid of it before it progresses to the next stage. Alternatively, you can lord, so you cannot use it if you are a normal vampire in the early stages. Finally, you can use your charisma skills and use the Vampires Seduction ability to lure NPCs and feed on them. Depending on how successful your ability is, you will either have an easy time or you'll have to flee the area. Keep in mind that feeding as a vampire is looked down upon in the world of Skyrim and guards will attack you as soon as you do it. Since this is an illegal act, you need to make sure that you are not seen or heard by anyone. One thing you might be wondering is why you need to feed on NPCs when you contract the vampire disease. Worry not because we've answered this question for you and it'll help you decide if you want to feed on NPCs or not. First things first, there are four stages of becoming a vampire. Each stage has its own advantages and disadvantages with stage four being the strongest. If you want to progress to the next stage, you cannot feed on any NPC for at least a full in-game day. Increased Resist Frost by 25% Attributes are reduced by 15 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 25% Gain abilities Vampires Sight, Vampiric Drain, Vampires Servant Increased Resist Frost by 50% Attributes are reduced by 30 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 50% Gain ability Vampires Seduction Increased Resist Frost by 75% Attributes are reduced by 45 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 75% Stronger versions of existing abilities Drawback: Most NPCs will not interact with you Increased Resist Frost by 100% Attributes are reduced by 60 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 100% Gain abilities Embrace of Shadows and upgraded Vampiric Drain and Vampires Servant Drawback: You will be attacked by the citizens for being a vampire. However, keep in mind that if you have the Dawnguard DLC, NPCs will not become hostile towards you when you are in stage 4. Instead, they will be hostile towards you if you become the vampire lord. Another thing to keep in mind is that becoming a vampire is great for stealth-based characters since it gives them tons of useful skills. However, you might feel a lot of inconveniences when using other characters. If you are tired of becoming a vampire and want to get rid of this disease, there is a way in which you can cure your character. For starters, if you just got this sickness, you can use the Cure Disease to quickly get rid of it before it progresses to the next stage. Alternatively, you can lord, so you cannot use it if you are a normal vampire in the early stages. Finally, you can use your charisma skills and use the Vampires Seduction ability to lure NPCs and feed on them. Depending on how successful your ability is, you will either have an easy time or you'll have to flee the area. Keep in mind that feeding as a vampire is looked down upon in the world of Skyrim and guards will attack you as soon as you do it. Since this is an illegal act, you need to make sure that you are not seen or heard by anyone. One thing you might be wondering is why you need to feed on NPCs when you contract the vampire disease. Worry not because we've answered this question for you and it'll help you decide if you want to feed on NPCs or not. First things first, there are four stages of becoming a vampire. Each stage has its own advantages and disadvantages with stage four being the strongest. If you want to progress to the next stage, you cannot feed on any NPC for at least a full in-game day. Increased Resist Frost by 25% Attributes are reduced by 15 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 25% Gain abilities Vampires Sight, Vampiric Drain, Vampires Servant Increased Resist Frost by 50% Attributes are reduced by 30 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 50% Gain ability Vampires Seduction Increased Resist Frost by 75% Attributes are reduced by 45 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 75% Stronger versions of existing abilities Drawback: Most NPCs will not interact with you Increased Resist Frost by 100% Attributes are reduced by 60 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 100% Gain abilities Embrace of Shadows and upgraded Vampiric Drain and Vampires Servant Drawback: You will be attacked by the citizens for being a vampire. However, keep in mind that if you have the Dawnguard DLC, NPCs will not become hostile towards you when you are in stage 4. Instead, they will be hostile towards you if you become the vampire lord. Another thing to keep in mind is that becoming a vampire is great for stealth-based characters since it gives them tons of useful skills. However, you might feel a lot of inconveniences when using other characters. If you are tired of becoming a vampire and want to get rid of this disease, there is a way in which you can cure your character. For starters, if you just got this sickness, you can use the Cure Disease to quickly get rid of it before it progresses to the next stage. Alternatively, you can lord, so you cannot use it if you are a normal vampire in the early stages. Finally, you can use your charisma skills and use the Vampires Seduction ability to lure NPCs and feed on them. Depending on how successful your ability is, you will either have an easy time or you'll have to flee the area. Keep in mind that feeding as a vampire is looked down upon in the world of Skyrim and guards will attack you as soon as you do it. Since this is an illegal act, you need to make sure that you are not seen or heard by anyone. One thing you might be wondering is why you need to feed on NPCs when you contract the vampire disease. Worry not because we've answered this question for you and it'll help you decide if you want to feed on NPCs or not. First things first, there are four stages of becoming a vampire. Each stage has its own advantages and disadvantages with stage four being the strongest. If you want to progress to the next stage, you cannot feed on any NPC for at least a full in-game day. Increased Resist Frost by 25% Attributes are reduced by 15 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 25% Gain abilities Vampires Sight, Vampiric Drain, Vampires Servant Increased Resist Frost by 50% Attributes are reduced by 30 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 50% Gain ability Vampires Seduction Increased Resist Frost by 75% Attributes are reduced by 45 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 75% Stronger versions of existing abilities Drawback: Most NPCs will not interact with you Increased Resist Frost by 100% Attributes are reduced by 60 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 100% Gain abilities Embrace of Shadows and upgraded Vampiric Drain and Vampires Servant Drawback: You will be attacked by the citizens for being a vampire. However, keep in mind that if you have the Dawnguard DLC, NPCs will not become hostile towards you when you are in stage 4. Instead, they will be hostile towards you if you become the vampire lord. Another thing to keep in mind is that becoming a vampire is great for stealth-based characters since it gives them tons of useful skills. However, you might feel a lot of inconveniences when using other characters. If you are tired of becoming a vampire and want to get rid of this disease, there is a way in which you can cure your character. For starters, if you just got this sickness, you can use the Cure Disease to quickly get rid of it before it progresses to the next stage. Alternatively, you can lord, so you cannot use it if you are a normal vampire in the early stages. Finally, you can use your charisma skills and use the Vampires Seduction ability to lure NPCs and feed on them. Depending on how successful your ability is, you will either have an easy time or you'll have to flee the area. Keep in mind that feeding as a vampire is looked down upon in the world of Skyrim and guards will attack you as soon as you do it. Since this is an illegal act, you need to make sure that you are not seen or heard by anyone. One thing you might be wondering is why you need to feed on NPCs when you contract the vampire disease. Worry not because we've answered this question for you and it'll help you decide if you want to feed on NPCs or not. First things first, there are four stages of becoming a vampire. Each stage has its own advantages and disadvantages with stage four being the strongest. If you want to progress to the next stage, you cannot feed on any NPC for at least a full in-game day. Increased Resist Frost by 25% Attributes are reduced by 15 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 25% Gain abilities Vampires Sight, Vampiric Drain, Vampires Servant Increased Resist Frost by 50% Attributes are reduced by 30 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 50% Gain ability Vampires Seduction Increased Resist Frost by 75% Attributes are reduced by 45 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 75% Stronger versions of existing abilities Drawback: Most NPCs will not interact with you Increased Resist Frost by 100% Attributes are reduced by 60 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 100% Gain abilities Embrace of Shadows and upgraded Vampiric Drain and Vampires Servant Drawback: You will be attacked by the citizens for being a vampire. However, keep in mind that if you have the Dawnguard DLC, NPCs will not become hostile towards you when you are in stage 4. Instead, they will be hostile towards you if you become the vampire lord. Another thing to keep in mind is that becoming a vampire is great for stealth-based characters since it gives them tons of useful skills. However, you might feel a lot of inconveniences when using other characters. If you are tired of becoming a vampire and want to get rid of this disease, there is a way in which you can cure your character. For starters, if you just got this sickness, you can use the Cure Disease to quickly get rid of it before it progresses to the next stage. Alternatively, you can lord, so you cannot use it if you are a normal vampire in the early stages. Finally, you can use your charisma skills and use the Vampires Seduction ability to lure NPCs and feed on them. Depending on how successful your ability is, you will either have an easy time or you'll have to flee the area. Keep in mind that feeding as a vampire is looked down upon in the world of Skyrim and guards will attack you as soon as you do it. Since this is an illegal act, you need to make sure that you are not seen or heard by anyone. One thing you might be wondering is why you need to feed on NPCs when you contract the vampire disease. Worry not because we've answered this question for you and it'll help you decide if you want to feed on NPCs or not. First things first, there are four stages of becoming a vampire. Each stage has its own advantages and disadvantages with stage four being the strongest. If you want to progress to the next stage, you cannot feed on any NPC for at least a full in-game day. Increased Resist Frost by 25% Attributes are reduced by 15 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 25% Gain abilities Vampires Sight, Vampiric Drain, Vampires Servant Increased Resist Frost by 50% Attributes are reduced by 30 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 50% Gain ability Vampires Seduction Increased Resist Frost by 75% Attributes are reduced by 45 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 75% Stronger versions of existing abilities Drawback: Most NPCs will not interact with you Increased Resist Frost by 100% Attributes are reduced by 60 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 100% Gain abilities Embrace of Shadows and upgraded Vampiric Drain and Vampires Servant Drawback: You will be attacked by the citizens for being a vampire. However, keep in mind that if you have the Dawnguard DLC, NPCs will not become hostile towards you when you are in stage 4. Instead, they will be hostile towards you if you become the vampire lord. Another thing to keep in mind is that becoming a vampire is great for stealth-based characters since it gives them tons of useful skills. However, you might feel a lot of inconveniences when using other characters. If you are tired of becoming a vampire and want to get rid of this disease, there is a way in which you can cure your character. For starters, if you just got this sickness, you can use the Cure Disease to quickly get rid of it before it progresses to the next stage. Alternatively, you can lord, so you cannot use it if you are a normal vampire in the early stages. Finally, you can use your charisma skills and use the Vampires Seduction ability to lure NPCs and feed on them. Depending on how successful your ability is, you will either have an easy time or you'll have to flee the area. Keep in mind that feeding as a vampire is looked down upon in the world of Skyrim and guards will attack you as soon as you do it. Since this is an illegal act, you need to make sure that you are not seen or heard by anyone. One thing you might be wondering is why you need to feed on NPCs when you contract the vampire disease. Worry not because we've answered this question for you and it'll help you decide if you want to feed on NPCs or not. First things first, there are four stages of becoming a vampire. Each stage has its own advantages and disadvantages with stage four being the strongest. If you want to progress to the next stage, you cannot feed on any NPC for at least a full in-game day. Increased Resist Frost by 25% Attributes are reduced by 15 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 25% Gain abilities Vampires Sight, Vampiric Drain, Vampires Servant Increased Resist Frost by 50% Attributes are reduced by 30 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 50% Gain ability Vampires Seduction Increased Resist Frost by 75% Attributes are reduced by 45 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 75% Stronger versions of existing abilities Drawback: Most NPCs will not interact with you Increased Resist Frost by 100% Attributes are reduced by 60 points in the sunlight. Weakness to Fire 100% Gain abilities Embrace of Shadows and upgraded Vampiric Drain and Vampires Servant Drawback: You will be attacked by the citizens for being a vampire. However, keep in mind that if you have the Dawnguard DLC, NPCs will not become hostile towards you when you are in stage 4. Instead, they will be hostile towards you if you become the vampire lord. Another thing to keep in mind is that becoming a vampire is great for stealth-based characters since it gives them tons of useful skills. However, you might feel a lot of inconveniences when using other characters. If you are tired of becoming a vampire and want to get rid of this disease, there is a way in which you can cure your character. For starters, if you just got this sickness, you can use the Cure Disease to quickly get rid of it before it progresses to the next stage. Alternatively, you can lord, so you cannot use it if you are a normal vampire in the early stages. Finally, you can use your charisma skills and use the Vampires Seduction ability to lure NPCs and feed on them. Depending on